'THE GOLDEN AGE OF CHILDREN'S BOOK ILLUSTRATION IN EDWARDIAN ENGLAND'

Talk by SUSAN BAILES BA, MA, PGCE.

We are delighted to welcome Susan back by popular demand for her illustrated talk that draws upon her knowledge of children's literature with examples from her extensive book collection.

'LIVE' in St Anne's Parish Hall & 'STREAMED ONLINE' via Zoom Webinar

SATURDAY 30 APRIL 2022

11.00 to 12.00

Coffee served at 10.30 am

Edwardian England was a fascinating period of developments in colour printing leading to high quality illustrated children's books.

Discover more and learn about the part three very different artists played with their expertise and talents:

Arthur Rackham, Edmund Dulac
& Beatrix Potter (the subject of the current V&A exhibition
'BEATRIX POTTER: DRAWN TO NATURE')

Susan is Chair of the Children's Books History Society and editor of its journal. She is also a committee member of IBBY (International Board on Books for Young People) and of IBIS (Imaginative Book Illustration Society). Susan has published many research articles and is a regular book reviewer.
